Morse code should be dropped, it's something that has been around for ages and scares people about becoming an amateur radio operator. The hobby is slowing dying, and we need something to spark interest in it again, a no-code HF license would be just that. I support dropping the code